

Brief Profile of the Speaker

Dr Harry Blom is Vice President, Mathematics, Computer Science and Publishing Development. He is part of Springer Nature's Global Management Team that drives publishing units in the company. Besides leading Springer's two most prestigious publishing portfolios of Mathematics and Computer Science, he is also responsible for keeping Springer Nature at par with the latest developments of publishing industry that are of immense benefit to the researchers.

Dr Blom has a Masters in Astrophysics from Utrecht University and a PhD in Astrophysics from Leiden University. He did a postdoc in Puebla, Mexico, and started his publishing career in 1999 at Kluwer Dordrecht. He joined Springer when Kluwer merged with Springer and then moved to Springer New York in 2004, where he is still working if he is not on the road somewhere in Brazil, India, Europe, etc.