Abstract of the Talk

The webinar is aimed to highlight how Internet, Globalization, the Information technology, and web technologies have interconnected people all over the world today in the virtual world of cyberspace. However, this world of cyberspace is also fraught with threats from organized criminals of the cyber underworld. There is thus a need for governing this virtual world to support global social, political, economic collaboration and exchange while managing the associated risks. Cyber governance must lead to cyber-assurance, along with IT value delivery and IT risk management .

All are welcome:
