Abstract of the Talk

Almost on a daily basis , Professionals confront moral issues and are required to take firm decisions out of complex alternatives available for them. Competitive examination authorities have also therefore felt the need to test them on this important topic. This has created a need window to have a learning session on this vast topic. Playing an anchor's role, Daman Dev Sood – Chair PR&P STandInG Committee, IEEE Delhi Section will pick a case and the session expert Bal Mukund Jha will resolve with his critical inputs. The session will help both the established engineers and those who are planning to make caerrer is Engineering. Ultimately, personal resilience raised through this informative session will help us to build Resilient Communities and the Resilient Planet that we all look forward to.

All are welcome:
