Abstract of the Talk	Daman will bring out the relationship between different entities of an organisation, establish what is organizational culture and how this can be modified to make a better prepared/ resilient organisation. The importance of this topic lies in the fact that the world has been going through the Covid-19 Pandemic. There will be case discussions. Daman will elaborate the various roles in Pandemic management, challenges of working from home, challenges with the 'new normal', challenges of opening up (after the lockdown), and good practices with respect to crisis communication

All are welcome:
