Man, wife held in snatching
case in S Delhi

New Delhi: A 27-year-old man and his wife were arrested from West Delhi's Inderpuri for their alleged involvement in a snatching incident in the South Campus area. Police said they were newly married and committed the crime to fund a lavish lifestyle.

The complainant in the case told police that on December 23, she was going somewhere on foot and was talking to someone on the phone. "Suddenly, one boy and a girl on scooter snatched her mobile phone," deputy commissioner of police (south-west) Gaurav Sharma said, adding that a case was registered.

Later, a team led by ACP (operations) Abhinender Jain was formed and the cops arrested the couple from Inderpuri. The accused were identified as Gaurav Malhotra (26) and his wife Poonam (23). "Both of them were also injured during the incident. It was their first crime," the officer said.

"They had got married four months ago. Their families are from economically weak backgrounds. Gaurav's father is a butcher," the officer added. "They had recently seen a movie after which they planned to commit the crime." TNN

As today's bride and groom celebrate their wedding, they have every excuse for being nervous. They exchange promises of lifelong fidelity and mutual support. However, all around them, they can see that many people do not and cannot keep these promises. Their own marriage has a one in three chance of divorce, if present tendencies continue. Traditional marriage is facing a crisis, at least in Britain. Not only are there more and more divorces, but the number of marriages is falling. Living together is more popular than before. The family is now no longer one man, one woman and their children. Instead, there are more and more families which include parents, half sisters and brothers, or even only one parent on her / his own. Although Britain is still conservative in its attitudes to marriage compared with other countries such as the USA, Sweden and Denmark, the future will probably see many more people living together before marriage - and more divorce. Interestingly, it is women rather than men who apply for divorce. Seven out of ten divorces are given to the wife. Also, one of the main reasons for divorce, chosen by ten times more women than men, is unreasonable or cruel behavior. Perhaps this means that women will tolerate less than they used to.
